What if my containers are crushed or damaged?

If your containers are crushed or slightly damaged, they are still fine to bring in for a refund. We hand count the containers at Stanley Road so as long as we can tell it's an eligible container you will receive a refund.

Do my containers need to be rinsed and have the lids removed?

No, your containers do not need to be rinsed, but they should be empty. You can bring your lids in for recycling, please remove them from your containers first.

What if I am fund raising or own a business?

You are most welcome to bring in your containers if you are fund raising or own a business.
